
Theis Villumsen

Software Developer

Theis Villumsen is Software Developer at TS NoCode ApS, working to improve and extend the functionality and extensibility of TS No-code Platform, making sure that users of the platform can do more with less effort. Theis also works with partners and customers to help them realise even their most ambitious application development needs.

Theis is a software engineer from DTU - Technical University of Denmark. Also during his studies he has worked with different facets of IT and software development. Before joining TS in 2019 as a software development apprentice, he worked at Spejdersport in their IT Team.
